

CUWB emerging scholar workshop August 26th, 2019

Faculty of Social Sciences of the University of Tartu

Institute of Social Studies

Lossi Street 36, aud. 214

To Register for the public session and/or to get involved in the CUWB emerging scholar network please send an email to Stella März and Lisa Fischer (stella.maerz@uni-vechta.de; lisa.fischer@tu-berlin.de).

Please note that the second part of the workshop day is to build an emerging scholar network, so every young career researcher with a qualitative approach interested in participating is welcome.

Open/Public sessions

Open to all ISCI-conference participants.

- | | |
|-------------|---|
| 9:30-10:00 | Welcome by PhD Margit Keller, Head of Institute of Social Studies of UT
Welcome Remarks by Tobia Fattore, Susann Fegter, Christine Hunner-Kreisel, CUWB research project
Welcome Remarks by Stella März and Lisa Fischer, workshop organizer |
| 10:00-11:00 | 'Work in progress presentations' <ul style="list-style-type: none">➤ Emma Cooke (University of Queensland, Australia): Children's experiences of spiritual well-being and relaxation in Early Childhood Education and Care (ECEC)➤ Rafia Arshad (Quaid i Azam University Islamabad, Pakistan): Child Well-being: A Comparative Analysis of Parents' and Children's Views in Kotli Azad Kashmir➤ Donnay Manuel (University of the Western Cape, South Africa): Bullying victimisation amongst primary school children in South Africa: A multi-method national study Chair: Christine Hunner-Kreisel |
| 11:00-11:30 | Coffee break |

- 11:30-12:50 ‘Work in progress presentations’
- Gözde Durmuş (İstanbul Bilgi University Child Studies Unit, Turkey): Preventing child labour and developing a model project
 - Mulalo Mpilo (University of the Western Cape, South Africa): The development of a composite index of children’s subjective well-being using the Children’s Delphi: A national multi-method study
 - Benjamin Olson (University of South Dakota, USA): Strengths and Barriers to Occupational Performance within an Inclusive Classroom: A Case Study Design
 - Kainat Khan (Quaid-i-Azam University Islamabad, Pakistan): Family and Children's Understanding of their Subjective Well being in Rawalpindi and Islamabad, Pakistan
- Chair: Susann Fegter

12:50-14:00 Lunchbreak

- 14:00-15:20 ‘Work in progress presentations’
- Carolina Aspillaga (Universidad del Desarrollo, Chile): Subjective Theories of Chilean Adolescents regarding subjective Well-being and its trajectories during adolescence
 - Ng Siang Kiat/Vivienne (National University of Singapore): Wrestling with Research
 - Stella März (University of Vechta, Germany): Children`s Well-being and social inequality - an intersectional perspective
 - Lisa Fischer (TU Berlin, Germany): Young people’s discursive relationship practices in context of a digitalized everyday world
- Chair: Toby Fattore

15:20-15:45 Coffee break

Closed/Non-public meeting

Emerging scholars who are somehow linked to child-well-being or qualitative research and are interested to participate in CUWB emerging scholars network are welcome.

15:45-16:45 Open discussion
Chair: Lisa Fischer and Stella März

16:45-17:00 Short break

17:00-18:00 Organize the administration of CUWB emerging scholars network
Chair: Lisa Fischer and Stella März

from 18:00 Get-together