Call for papers for a special issue on

CHILDREN'S WELL-BEING FROM DIFFERENT ANGLES

Guest Editor:

Dr. Dagmar Kutsar, Associate Professor
Institute of Social Studies
University of Tartu, Estonia

Population Review, published since 1957, invites submissions of high-quality research papers on topics that were presented/discussed at the 7th ISCI conference 'Children of the Worlds: The Touch of Change. Research, Policy, and Practices,' held on 27-29 August 2019 in Tartu, Estonia. Accepted papers will comprise a special collection – one based on the belief that it is time to focus on children's subjective well-being as an emerging interdisciplinary field of knowledge.

The special collection will be guest edited by Dr. Dagmar Kutsar, who has published articles on the subjective well-being of children in peer-reviewed journals (Child Indicators Research, Children and Youth Services Review, Journal of Emotional Education, among others) and co-edited several books on the subject (Internationalisation of Social Sciences in Central and Eastern Europe: The 'Catching up' - a Myth or a Strategy? (2010), Children and Non-Discrimination: Interdisciplinary Textbook (2014), Local Welfare Policy Making in European Cities (2015), among others).

The editor welcomes submissions that combine theory with solid empirical research. In addition to articles, the journal publishes research notes, which are condensed reports of study results. Research notes are peer-reviewed, contain abstracts, and can be purely descriptive. Content is published online immediately after acceptance.

Benefits of publishing in Population Review:

- Articles/research notes go through a double-blind, peer-review process,
- Accepted articles proceed to publication immediately after acceptance,
- The journal is affiliated with Project MUSE – a leading provider of digital humanities and social sciences content for the scholarly community around the world, and
- The journal is broadly indexed/abstracted in Project MUSE (Premium Collection, Standard Collection, Social Sciences Collection, and Research Collection), Web of Science (Core Collection), SCOPUS Periodicals Contents Index (Elsevier), International Bibliography of the Social Sciences (IBSS), ProQuest CSA Sociological Abstracts, International Bibliography of Periodical Literature in the Humanities and Social Sciences (IBZ), International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature in the Humanities and Social Sciences (IBR), POPLINE, EBSCO Electronic Journals Service (EJS), Google Scholar, Index Islamicus, Magazines for Libraries, PAIS International, Population Index, an OCLC (WorldCat).
